CHANGAN

1862

In 1862, Chinese diplomat Li Hongzhang founded China's first Western-style engineering firm, laying the foundation for Changan.

1959

In 1959, Changan produced its first production vehicle, the Changjiang Type 46, under contract with the Chinese government.

1984

In 1984, Changan launched China's first mini-vehicle, the Star, after government safety tests led to support for the domestic auto industry.

2001

By 2001, Changan Automobile produced 1 million vehicles, was valued at over ¥10.00 billion, and expanded to 70+ countries.

2002 - 2006

In 2003, Changan established its European Design Center in Turin, Italy, and launched its first passenger vehicle, the Benni, in 2006.

2007 - 2013

Changan introduced the Eado sedan in 2011, the Eado XT in 2013, and the CS35 SUV, signaling its entry into the SUV market.

2014 - 2021

In 2018, Changan unveiled its "Third Entrepreneurship Strategy," aimed at accelerating technological innovation and driving global growth.

2022 - 2025

Presently, Changan innovates to meet customer needs, investing in global R&D, cutting-edge technology, safety, performance, & contemporary design.
